

Stakeholders and Data Use

- Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and FSG Social Impact Advisors: A Practical Guide for Engaging Stakeholders in Developing Evaluation Questions details a five-step process for developing evaluation questions with stakeholder input. The resource includes worksheets to support the process, and more information is available in the recorded webinar: <https://www.fsg.org/blog/engaging-stakeholders-what-works>
- The IDEA Partnership, NASDSE: Leading by Convening: A Blueprint for Authentic Engagement provides a framework for comprehensive and holistic strategies for engaging stakeholders in collaborative practice.
- Institute of Education Sciences, REL: Toolkit of Resources for Engaging Families and the Community as Partners in Education contains information on building an understanding of family and community engagement, building a cultural bridge, building trusting relationships with families and community through effective communication, and engaging families and community members in data conversations.
- Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, Office of Special Education Programs: Serving on Groups That Make Decisions: A Guide for Families is helpful for anyone (parent, student, educator, administrator, or community member) who is considering or currently serving on a decisionmaking group.
- The following videos by IDC and the Data Quality Campaign can help stakeholders with minimal experience using data value the use of high-quality data in the decisionmaking process and build their own capacity in working with data.
 - IDC: The Story of Data: An Early Childhood Tale
 - IDC: The Story of Data: A Special Education Tale
 - IDC: The Importance of High-Quality IDEA Data
 - Data Quality Campaign: How Data Help Teachers
 - Data Quality Campaign: How Data Empowers Parents